

Attention to Detail

Attention to detail makes the difference between a stunning wedding outfit and one that is simply ok. Often brides are advised on the accessories to put with their dress when they buy it. Many bridal shops and bridal designers stock accessories or make a range of accessories to complement their collection. However, even the one-stop wedding shop may not have every last detail to make your wedding outfit perfect and you will undoubtedly have to shop around whether it is for a tiara, a pair of earrings or perhaps shoes.

Many bridal shops stock their own veils and tiaras, or keep a selection from well-known suppliers such as Joyce Jackson for veils or Gamba for shoes.
